SUMMARY OF ST. LOUIS MARKETS.

There will be no session of the Merchants' Exchange to-day, municipal election day, Yesterday's local grain market was moderately active, with trading mainly in the hands of professionals and scalpers and values slightly higher at the close. All of the early news had a decidedly bearish tinge. Receipts here and at other primary points were far in excess of the recent averages, and extremely large as compared with those recorded on the corresponding day last year. Cables came lower at the opening and recorded on the corresponding day last year. Cande formed at a special gard there was little export inquiry. English, French and German markets were at a stand-still. Seiling was free, though mainly in small lots, until near the end of the session, when prices rallied. Buying was in line with Chicago, where Armour and other manipulators were ranged on the built side. Late foreign advices indicating crop shortage in France and Russia and a decrease in the visible supply helped the upward movement.

Corn was dull throughout the session. Weather conditions were generally favorable and there was practically no export inquiry. The market advanced in the closing hour May wheat opened 5c off and closed 5c up.

May corn opened 1/4/4c off and closed 1/4/4c up. May outs closed '4c off. Receipts of produce were fair, with a moderate demand, and prices were generally
